"The feeling we should have towards the newborn baby is not the compassion that we have for the sick or weak, but reverence before the mystery of creation, the secret of an infinite taking bounded form..." -Maria Montessori

Montessori Prenatal Course Six Week Session

Please call for dates and times.

Prenatal life is a time when mother and child live as one being in a physical and spiritual communion with one another. The time in the womb lays down a foundation of experience that helps prepare the child for life in this world.

During this course we will spend time discussing the experiences of the unborn child during prenatal life and during the birth process, and the ways in which everyone involved can assist in this monumental transition for mother and baby. We will discuss the preparation of the home environment for the newborn's arrival and simple ways to support his/her development.

The last two weeks of the course there will be a mobile making workshop in addition to the regularly scheduled class with an additional fee for materials. You may choose to participate in it or not, depending on your interest.
